INDIGENOUS COMMUNITY JUSTICE PROGRAM ADMINISTRATIVE SUPPORT

OVERVIEW

This position provides vital support to the ICJP Program Coordinator in the delivery of the Indigenous Community Justice Program. The role focuses primarily on administrative duties, maintaining accurate documentation, and assisting with group and circle facilitation. By supporting these core functions, the position contributes to the overall effectiveness, smooth operation, and cultural integrity of the program, ensuring services remain responsive to the needs of the community.

The ideal candidate will demonstrate strong time management skills and the ability to juggle multiple priorities efficiently. Excellent written and verbal communication skills are essential, along with the ability to build and maintain professional relationships with justice partners and community members. Proficiency in MS Office 365 and records management is required to ensure accurate and organized program documentation, supporting both daily operations and long-term program goals.
